Re: Pro Bono Services with respect to the Punitive Sanctions Law Suit

Dear Ms. Pyburn:

This will confirm that the services this firm will render to Coconut Creek in connection with the lawsuit it plans to bring challenging the validity of the portions of Section 790.33 of the Florida Statutes imposing monetary and punitive sanctions against officials or localities that propose or pass gun legislation that is found to have been preempted will be provided pro bono, meaning without charge. The City will not be billed for any legal fees for time spent by attorneys, law clerks and/or paralegals. In addition, Proskauer will pay ordinary and necessary expenses incurred in the representation (e.g., photocopying, postage, facsimile charges, etc.), subject to reimbursement if the City is awarded damages by the Court. Proskauer will not pay for third party fees and extraordinary expenses that may arise. You will be promptly notified if our costs and expenses exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00).

Very truly yours,

Michael A. Cardozo
