Alfred Delgado

I was born in New York City and raised in the Dominican Republic. I studied political science at the University of Florida, focusing on International Relations and Latin American studies. Having graduated with honors I moved to California where I worked for the Sierra Club on environmental campaigns including protection of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge (ANWR). I subsequently interned with the City of Torrance's City Manager's office. During my internship I gained a deep appreciation for the transformative power a committed and efficient city government can have in improving the life of its residents. After completing my internship I was accepted to the University of Miami School of Law. I focused my studies on International Law. After graduating from law school I moved to Michigan and clerked for District Judge Patrick F. Cherry while also organizing tenants in low-income communities of Lansing, Michigan.

In 2006 I returned to South Florida eventually joining the immigration law firm of Susan J. Hahn, P.A. I have served on the Broward County School Board's Diversity Committee, promoting greater diversity in our schools and financial literacy programs in underprivileged communities. Thereafter, I served on the City of Oakland Park's School Advisory Board.

In 2016 I was appointed to the City of Coconut Creek's Planning and Zoning Board and subsequently elected Chair of the Coconut Creek Affordable Housing Advisory Committee (AHAC) by AHAC's members. The following year I was appointed to the City of Coconut Creek's Civil Service Board on which I presently serve.
