Alfred Delgado

I was born in New York City and raised in the Dominican Republic. I studied political science at the University of Florida, focusing on International Relations and Latin American studies. Having graduated with honors I moved to California where I worked for the Sierra Club on environmental campaigns including protection of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge (ANWR). I subsequently interned with the City of Torrance's City Manager's office. During my internship I gained a deep appreciation for the transformative power a committed and efficient city government can have in improving the life of its residents. After completing my internship I was accepted to the University of Miami School of Law. I focused my studies on International Law. After graduating from law school I moved to Michigan and clerked for District Judge Patrick F. Cherry while also organizing tenants in low-income communities of Lansing, Michigan.

In 2006 I returned to South Florida eventually joining the immigration law firm of Susan J. Hahn, P.A. I have served on the Broward County School Board's Diversity Committee, promoting greater diversity in our schools and financial literacy programs in underprivileged communities. Thereafter, I served on the City of Oakland Park's School Advisory Board.

In 2016 I was appointed to the City of Coconut Creek's Planning and Zoning Board and subsequently elected Chair of the Coconut Creek Affordable Housing Advisory Committee (AHAC) by AHAC's members.
