She noted City Manager Brooks would pass on the details once they were confirmed.

COMMISSION COMMUNICATIONS

Commissioner Welch extended her congratulations to Vice Mayor Rydell and incoming-Commissioner Jacqueline Railey on their recent election. She noted she had admired Commissioner Belvedere for her focus on culture and diversity in the City. She thanked the voters for being engaged and thanked the City Clerk's office and the Police Department for making accommodations to the candidates for their final financial report date. Commissioner Welch commended Fire Chief Jeffrey Gary and Medical Director Dr. Craig B. Kushnir for their presentation to the Women's Club, highlighting COVID-19 response and updating on the Coconut Creek Fire Rescue Department implementation. She asked that staff ensure the Commissioners received the Copans Road Improvement Project input from the County after the public meeting.

Commissioner Tooley congratulated Commissioner Welch, Vice Mayor Rydell, and Commissioner-elect Railey on their election. She stated she looked forward to keeping in touch with Commissioner Belvedere upon her retirement. Commissioner Tooley shared that the Senate Appropriations Committee had amended Senate Bill 522 related to short-term rentals, and no longer included a number of the preemptions, which infringed on local decision-making. She noted that she would continue to stay abreast of the legislative session.

Commissioner Belvedere congratulated her colleagues on their recent election and welcomed Commissioner-elect Railey. She asked City Manager Brooks if she could continue to stay in touch via email and thanked Fire Chief Gary for his help over the years and specifically for his recent assistance with Wynmoor residents while the elevators were down. Commissioner Belvedere thanked Deputy City Manager Sheila Rose for being a mentor with the Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO), Utilities and Engineering Director Osama Elshami for his responsiveness with road issues, and all City staff for their assistance.

Vice Mayor Rydell related a story of learning Commissioner Belvedere was behind a number of events he attended when first getting involved with the City, including opportunities for his daughters to engage in cultural events that were not widely available in American communities. He commented on the diversity and unity Commissioner Belvedere had brought to the City, and stated the City was losing an asset to the Commission. Vice Mayor Rydell congratulated Commissioner-elect Railey and her husband John Railey for being a support system that will allow her to do the job, and congratulated Commissioner Welch on her reelection. He stated the Commission and staff were committed to running Coconut Creek as an A-rated City and thanked them for that effort. He brought forward a discussion item regarding doing a Fire Department implementation update in a public forum, either at a Workshop or public input session. He stated he was leaning more toward a public input session and asked the Commission for their feedback and consensus. Discussion ensued regarding how best to present the information publicly and have the most reach, as well as what information to include. There was consensus to add a Coconut Creek Fire Rescue update presentation to the first available Regular Commission agenda.

Mayor Sarbone congratulated his colleagues on their re-election. He stated Commissioner-elect Railey would do great, and it would be great to be able to communicate with Commissioner Belvedere outside of public meetings. He noted he had attended the hazardous waste drop-off event and the Police Explorers were out handling the traffic flow and got people through quickly and efficiently.

Vice Mayor Rydell stated he received complaints regarding drag racing and speeding at night and asked that the Police Department be engaged in a nighttime saturation to address the issue.
